THEN . . . I received an email within minutes to agree to a vehicle background check. So I haven't done a background check. interview and job offer yet. It appears in my case, it's backwards. Replied November 3, 2019So I asked and accepted work for a pse clerk leave period. Work starts on November 9th, which is in like 6 days and I am yet to receive an email for orientation. I've already done background checks, fingerprints and paperwork. Replied May 1, 2019In the list of processesresponded 12.credit 2019A I asked back in October for PSE within 1 week I was invited to do my mailing tests in one of their posts. after I had not heard anything until January for my interview and now it is February and received an email doing background, drug testing and conditional job offers it's still waiting game. Did he answer on 18 January 2019 I took the previous assessment test, passed, then passed the exam. passed. filled in the application that was recognised, as long as someone actually contacted me? He replied on January 4, 2019, at the ext bidding stage. It's been a few years. Which is absolutely ridiculous. I sent emails to different people to update any response. Answered December 7, 2018I got called for an interview in September, made fingerprints there . I was told to wait a week. I waited and nothing changed. November 30th I received an email to accept/drop, drug test, background test. He did everything just to wait again and hopefully it didn't take long. Replied November 9, 2018I applied for an ARC position on 10/29, I received background approval 2 days later, days after I received the interview announcement for 11/7, 2 days after that I received the offer letter, 2. I'm taking a drug test Monday and hopefully will start working in the next 2 weeks. The whole process was fast and seamless. He replied november 7, 2018I have two background checks. Both moon part. After the second, it took another month to give me a landmark date. But I contacted the man who interviewed me to draw attention to my files. It took 5 months from the application and interview to the start date. Everyone said the same thing about their process. Replied October 27, 2018SPS received the results of my drug screen on Oct.20 and my background check on Oct.23.... no response since Oct.27. I just have to waitResponded October 21, 2018Ridiculously a long process at a time when work is in short supply. I used, took a test and scored very high, drug test, background check, received an offer letter, accepted an offer on time, etc., and I wait and wait. It's been two months and no information. I walked in and asked, they told them to wait. How long? Crazy! Please note that all this content is user-generated and its accuracy is not guaranteed by actually or this company. Loading Hello, I asked to become CCA, took the test, went to the interview, got an offer on October 3rd and accepted it. Did the background and drug test the following day. My question is how long after everything is complete it takes for you to get invited to orientation. I know everyone says it takes a while, but I'm worried because the holidays are just around the corner. I suppose they'd like to train. rather, so you are not thrown in just during the busiest period of the year. Should I call and email and try to get information? or just continue to be patient. Also, who would I contact? Page 2 23 comments comments
